After growing up by the sea in Northumberland and graduating from university in Edinburgh, I moved to Devon in 1989 to join STC in Torbay. Having lived in the South West for the majority of my life, Kingsbridge has very much become my home. My family of three young children were all born here, making good use of the superb local amenities. I operate a small business based in the town developing advanced materials for precision engineering.

Joining the council was important to me. Families, like mine make up over half the local population. I feel able to represent a substantial part of the family community in Kingsbridge, creating a link between the council, schools and business. I'm active with St Malo Pre-School Charity as the treasurer and the Sustainable Energy group TASK. In my role as a Town Councillor my aims are to provide an objective view of issues in support of the population with an objective approach to delivering services.
